Enghouse Systems Acquires Mobilethink A/S

Acquisition expands Enghouse Networks product portfolio

Markham, Ontario; Aarhus, Denmark – April 5, 2018 – Enghouse Systems Limited (TSX:ENGH) announced today it has acquired Mobilethink A/S of Aarhus, Denmark.

Mobilethink A/S is a software business specializing in device management solutions, with two leading brands in the mobile B2B sector.

The principal brand, trademarked Mobilethink, is a comprehensive mobile operator-centric intelligence management suite for device management, customer engagement and smartphone support. It boosts data uptake, drives greater customer lifetime value and reduces customer care costs. The other brand is Tweakker, now the trusted business partner of over 100 mobile virtual network operators (MVNOs) worldwide. Tweakker is a market leader in MVNO connectivity, online customer care, automatic subscriber onboarding and customer engagement automation solutions.

"Mobilethink's portfolio is highly complementary with the Enghouse Networks portfolio," said Sunil Diaz, General Manager, Enghouse Networks. "It expands our Mobile Value Added Services, MVNO, Internet of Things and Customer Experience Management solutions with advanced device management, over the air configuration and business intelligence capabilities. We are very pleased to welcome Mobilethink and Tweakker's customers and employees to the Enghouse Networks organization."
